On Sunday, We Art Brunch with the CherryArts Festival at Stanley
Proceeds from the All-New Ticketed Art Brunch on September 17 Benefit Arts Education in Colorado

DENVER (August 31, 2017) – On Sunday, September 17, CherryArts Festival at Stanley invites the public to the all-new Art Brunch ticketed event from 10 a.m. to noon at Stanley Marketplace located on the border of Aurora and Stapleton at 2501 N. Dallas St. Proceeds from Art Brunch will benefit CherryArts’ nonprofit mission, since 1991, of providing access to art experiences and support arts education in local schools.

Art Brunch will serve up a selection of brunch favorites including black pepper candied bacon, an assortment of egg frittatas (gluten free), French toasted croissant casserole, potatoes o’Brien, site-grilled honey-lime fruit skewers, mimosas and other beverages all prepared by Foodie Call Catering, a Colorado-based catering company specializing in farm-to-table and international comfort food. These tasty treats will be paired with an array of take-home art activities, live music and national juried visual artists.

“While CherryArts Festival at Stanley is a Festival that celebrates artists from all over the country, CherryArts as an organization works to create access to art experiences and educational opportunities for families right here in our neighborhoods,” said Tara Brickell, executive director and CEO of CherryArts. “Art Brunch accomplishes this by bringing families together to create and learn about screen printing, metal stamping, watercolors, button making and more, while enjoying a wonderful meal.”

Tickets are on sale now; $45 for adults and $25 for children 7 to 20 years old; children 6 and under are free. Visit <http://2017artbrunch.eventbrite.com> to purchase your tickets.

On September 15, 16 and 17, Festival admission is free to the public, and visitors can purchase an array of culinary choices from four local food trucks, including Comida, Rolling Smoke, Maui Wowi and Beef King.

In addition to enjoying local fare, visitors can view and purchase art from nearly 100 artists, experience live entertainment and interactive art installations and explore children’s activities at Creation Station.

About Stanley Marketplace

First open in December 2016, Stanley is no ordinary marketplace. Located at the intersection of the Stapleton and Aurora neighborhoods just east of Denver, Stanley Marketplace is a community of like-minded businesses and people who believe in doing things differently: sustainably, creatively and with more than the bottom line in mind. The more than 22-acre, 100,000 sq. ft. indoor/outdoor space was once Stanley Aviation headquarters, where airplane ejector seats were engineered and manufactured; now it is an adaptive reuse community hub, home to a park, a food hall, an events venue and more. Today, the same innovative spirit that once filled this building has been harnessed to offer community members an urban marketplace featuring goods and services from 50+ local and independent businesses, plus a robust philanthropic and community outreach program.
