CherryArts Launches Holiday Artist Market!

Artist Market and Auction begins November 23rd featuring nearly 230 artworks

DENVER (November 12, 2020) – On Monday, November 23rd, CherryArts will launch the CherryArts Holiday Artist Market, a collection of nearly 230 artworks from 70 artists, providing an opportunity to buy art and give art while supporting the 2020 Cherry Creek Arts Festival juried artists from the comfort of your home.

Running through December 1st, the auction will feature artwork in 13 different mediums and specialty items by artists from all over the country, including Colorado. Some of the artists will share videos of their work with explanations of the piece and their process. Ninety percent of the proceeds from the market will go directly to the artists.

“Artists across the country have been deeply impacted by the pandemic and can use support now more than ever. The Holiday Artist Market is your chance to find a unique gift, add to an art collection and get a taste of the Cherry Creek Arts Festival while safely at home,” said Tara Brickell, executive director & CEO of CherryArts.

Throughout the week, the CherryArts social media channels will highlight artist videos, including demonstrations, studio tours and interviews.
